*"He's rude in temper rude in style
Him a wicked and a wild,
He loves an old hat shop
And a good punch up
Oh well he never punch down"*

Babyshambles release a brand new song Dandy Hooligan, their first release in a dozen years, through Strap Originals on Wednesday November 5th. Stream/purchase Dandy Hooligan here:
<https://ffm.to/dandy-hooligan>

Dandy Hooligan has a distinctive and extraordinarily infectious Caribbean flavour with a lyric that is loosely based on the escapades of sharply dressed band associate Bob Morris, who has for many years, served his time in the anti-nazi ranks.

Says Peter Doherty: "It's a well turned-out, elegantly crafted; reggae-ska-pop song... with a sweet melody to bowl along to with your sharpened walking cane.... Word from the 'shambles camp is that it's a homage to a legendary National Front basher."

Dandy Hooligan was recorded in Normandy and Manchester earlier this month and produced by Mike Moore (Baxter Drury) and mixed by Ross Orton (Arctic Monkeys / M.I.A / The Fall) in Sheffield. The video features the Dandy Hooligan himself, Bob Morris, and was filmed in Soho by Roger Sargent WATCH HERE
