

Whether driving or dreamy pop melodies. Whether with the lightness of indie rock or the melancholic weight of folk. Whether a psychedelic slacker vibe or passionate, danceable longing. Some Sprouts consistently manage to shape songs from expansive synthesizer sounds, both energetic and emotional guitar licks, melodic basslines, and striking drum patterns that you'll want to feel again and again.

Their songs have been streamed over 50 million times on Spotify alone. They have toured in more than six countries, played over a hundred shows, and appeared on the stages of major international festivals such as The Great Escape, Standon Calling, Eurosonic Noorderslag, MS Dockville, and Szene Openair.

After a two-year hibernation, the band is now back - hitting the road across Germany with new songs in tow. Recorded in an old dance hall while the winter storm Elli raged outside, the new tracks carry a delicate blend of joy and melancholy, picking up exactly where fans have missed them most.
